

From the Editorial Suite

Our sweet song of praise and appreciation bursts as we present this special 22nd edition of Livinghope magazine to the public. We did not give up in order to go up. We only got on the ground and hit the ground running. So far, so good. It has been a systematic progress in quality of content, design, and production. We give all the glory to God, our ever-present help in times of trouble.

This is still not our best but only good for the moment. We are evolving and steady in doing so. We are pleased with the choice of the cover story, which addresses an important aspect of the functions of any meaningful organization or government, that is, preventing conflicts and making them as good as dead before arrival. In other words, we encourage and call for proactivity, which is the best way of saving costs both in resources as well as lives.

The Israeli-Palestinian conflict is brought to the front burner in an attempt to ensure that the required actions are taken with an end brought to the lip service approach, which hitherto had become the norm. Probable and working suggestions are also provided.

This precious list cannot be complete without pointing your attention to the spotlight that we have published with the title—"President Biden and Vice-President Harris: One Year of Giant Strides." This brings to fore the importance of counting our blessings, an act that is not limited to just individuals but applicable also to people in positions of leadership, organizations, government agencies, and government institutions.

We are open and at your service any time. Don't forget also that we publish on a daily basis on our website at www.giantability.com, and the Livinghope magazine is published online and in the hardcopy formats. The website accommodates some of your advertisement needs that cannot wait to be published in the magazine, Livinghope, which is quarterly. Follow us on all our social media platforms, and do not forget to subscribe to our YouTube channel, GiantabilityTV.

Word-of-mouth cannot describe all the amazing content that we have in stock for your reading and viewing experiences. We seize this opportunity to thank all our contributors, and we want to let you know that you are a pillar to our ease of doing business, and we are not taking that for granted. We wish you a glorious and prosperous 2022. Happy reading and more blessings.
