

FROM THE Editorial Suite

Here we are again with the 21st Edition of our magazine. However, we are not taking the success of the journey so far for granted, for it is not of him who desires or aspires to get the job done but to the enabler, the only source, be all the glory for this giant stride. It is beyond doubts and any imagination of uncertainty as we acknowledge that the world is in chaos. As if the COVID pandemic, which has ravaged the whole world with a considerable number of precious lives lost, was not enough, the unrest and the agitations going on around the world are a source of concern, especially as the situations around seem intractable with no possible solutions in view. People and nations of the world, regardless of race, nationality, gender and status have lost sight of where to turn to leaving us with not even an option of where to run to.

It is now crystal clear that no political ideologies are capable of transforming lives and providing the desired peace that the world is in need of at this time. We all seem to have come to our wit's end and at the realization of this situation, the only option open to every well-meaning and perceptive individual is to look unto the heavens from where our help comes. God is neither a Democrat nor a Republican. However, He loves only those who consider the poor and the vulnerable.

Now that it has dawned on us that it is impossible for us to change the world, I think the path of wisdom dictates that if that is an impossibility, doing things that are necessary will translate us into doing things that are possible, and before we know it, we will begin to do the impossible.

We have packaged for you in this edition under the theme "Democracy Under Attack" inspiring and educative articles that are capable of pointing us to the right door, for holding a key becomes inconsequential without the door to be opened. Every article in this edition is for someone who has the capacity to influence others, for one man can make a difference and difference-makers are always different.

We welcome you to this platform and request that you commit to doing things that are required even though they're not convenient, for that is the only way to turn around our captivities and make the world less chaotic and more habitable. There is nowhere to run to for it is impossible to run away from ourselves.

We appreciate all those who, in one way or the other, contributed to the success of this edition. Your contributions are invaluable and we remain indebted to you even as we ask for more of your commitment. Here are some ways on how to contribute to the continuity of this project, and these include by advertising your products and services as well as donating to the cause of the vision of the Giantability Media Network. Don't forget also that we publish both online and in the hard-copy formats.

This is just the beginning and together, we can make the world a better place to live in, even when we cannot change it. Once again, thank you so much for your time, prayers, and commitment to this vision. We hope to see the vision speak louder and clearer until we make the best out of what we have in our hearts unto the glory of God. Happy reading. Be blessed.
