

One man can make a difference

Words of encouragement from Noah to Biden

As we finish the circuit of the track and approach the end of our time together, Noah hurriedly shares a few last nuggets of wisdom with us:

- “Don’t be afraid to stand out in a crowd. I know what it means to stand alone. No one encouraged me to follow God, yet I stood for Him—even when everyone else in the world stood against me. Difference-makers are different. Don’t let that bother you.”
- “Don’t be afraid to do something for the first time. It was strange to build a boat far from any sea or river that could float it. And it had never rained before, so nobody could even imagine a flood. But I was more concerned with obeying God than looking foolish. So I just kept building. Don’t allow the words ‘It’s never been done’ to prevent you from doing what God asks.”
- “When you see a rainbow, remember that one person can make a difference. I had never seen a rainbow until after I followed through on what God asked of me. He placed the rainbow in the sky as a covenant to humanity that He would never again destroy the world with water. The next time you see a rainbow, think of God’s promise to you: You can make a difference!”

Noah’s Prayer for Us

Dear Lord, Please help my fellow runners to understand the power of one. Speak to them about the unique task You call them to, and give them the will and the power to follow through so that they, too, can make a difference. Amen

Extracted from: Running with the giants by John C. Maxwell